Do You Have To Give Wedding Favors

Contributed by Joe Palladino
Wednesday, 26 December 2007

In this article we want to answer the question do you have to give wedding favors at your wedding reception? Although technically you do not have to give out wedding favors, your guests will probably be expecting them. So you need to consider, what is the reason that you would not give out wedding shower favors at your wedding.

First of all let's look at the reason why people give out wedding favors that their wedding reception. 1. It is a way for you to thank your guests for taking their time to attend your wedding. Although you probably will send out thank you cards in the future it's still nice to be able to personally thank your them on your wedding day. 2. Another reason people give out wedding favors is because it's a common practice to do so. Most wedding guests have been to a wedding where wedding favors have been handed out. Do you want to be different than everyone else! Now let's let it at the question of why you would not want to give our wedding shower favors at your wedding. 1. The most obvious reason is that you are on a very tight budget. Then when you add wedding favors to that it will put you over your budget. This makes sense as the cost of having a wedding is increasing every year. Depending on the number of guests you invite, you're wedding favors could end up being a very costly item to add to it. 2. Another reason is that people just get rushed for time and put this task on the back burner and never get to it. This really is a very poor excuse considering how easy it is to shop for, and pay online for, wedding favors. 3. One final reason that people do not give out wedding shower favors at their wedding is they just do not know what to buy or what to hand out. This comes back to the task of doing research online, and how easy it is to shop for and purchase wedding favors today. One simple thing you can do is to give each of your guests one single flower.If you're planning on using flowers, as centerpieces, talk to your florist and have them also incorporate a single flower to hand out to each guest. This is an inexpensive way to give out wedding favors, because you do not have to shop beyond the initial purchase of your floral centerpiece. Another thing you can do is use an artificial flower and give out that. When you incorporate the look of your centerpiece this can be an inexpensive way to remind everyone about your wedding day. To summarize this article we cannot make a decision for you. You may have your own reason for not wanting to give out wedding shower favors at your wedding. Regardless, we hope you'll consider the pros and cons and make the correct decision for your special day. ---------- Joe Palladino invites you to visit his wedding shower favors website for all of your shopping needs. They offer beach wedding favors, bridal shower wedding favors, and daily favor specials. With over 3000 items to choose from be sure and check out their best price guarantee. You can do that here now: ----> http://www.herweddingfavors.com