

Time To Blog

It is time to blog. I am giving in to peer pressure. It would seem that everyone is blogging these days on any number of topics out there. This bog will retain the focus of this site, weddings. Now, my comments on here may not always be about Michigan Weddings specifically, they will wander on to other wedding related news and topics. If I start to stray too far, please leave a comment and reel me back in!

Let the wedding blog begin!
