If you're planning a wintertime wedding, you may wish to make it winter theme. If you do that you can also include winter wedding favors to hand out to all of your guests.

Depending on the time of the year that you're getting married you can make those gifts relate back to the holiday season or just to the theme of winter in general. That is a personal choice you get to make.

In this article we wanted go over a few winter wedding favor ideas that you could use if you are planning a winter wedding.

Coffees, hot chocolate, and teas are great ideas for gifts to hand out at the reception of a winter wedding. Warm drinks are always appreciated during this cold time of the year. These are also easy to personalize and you may want to check into that when you are ordering them. This will make them even more personal and fun to hand out.

Another item you can give that mirrors the theme of a winter wedding is coasters. These come in a wide variety of shapes, sizes and designs. You can find them with pictures of different winter scenes. Coasters are appropriate when you include the theme of winter on them and they can be a very practical gift to hand out as well.

Snow globes make a great favor and are common if you are having your wedding in the winter. The snow globes can feature a groom and bride in a mountain scene. You can also find them with other winter backdrops such as ice skating or snow skiing. If you look hard enough you can come up with some very unique ideas that you do not see at every other wedding.

Are you having a Christmas wedding? This is a theme that can offer all kinds of ideas for you. One excellent idea is to give each guest a ornament with the wedding date and the names of the bride and the groom.

This makes a great winter wedding favor because it is one your guests can take out and use every Christmas. Because you can personalize it you will always be remembered every year for the wedding you had.

Small artificial Christmas trees are another great idea for a festive wedding gift. You can decorate them with various Christmas ornaments or even add wedding bells. If you choose you can give out a plain tree and your guests can decorate them differently each year as they choose.

Other Christmas theme ideas to hand out as favors would be Santa and his reindeer, miniature sleds, Frosty the Snowman, the manger theme, and so on. Again these can be used for years to come when your guests are decorating their own homes during this holiday season.

Having a winter wedding offers you many options that you do not get during other times of the year. Winter wedding favors are more easily chosen because you can come up with ideas to match your budget that tie back to the theme of winter or the holiday season of Christmas.
