In this article we want to talk about affordable wedding favors, and how you can use them to get the job done.

Sometimes couples get locked into the thought that they need the best of everything.

Depending on what we are talking about many times affordability is just as practical as elegance.

As the actual costs of holding a wedding mount many times couples are faced with determining what they should do without and what they should keep. This is understandable because there is only so much money to spend and in these days and times budgeting becomes critical.

I would suggest that you budget a certain percentage as a way to say thank you to those who took the time to come and recognize you. And budgeting becomes tight or whatever reason one of the first things that is cut his wedding favors.

Because affordability is within reach of almost every couple planning a wedding doing without gifts for your guests may not be the best idea.

One of the reasons for this is. You can give out favors at your wedding to show your guests that you are thankful for their attendance and you can do it at a surprisingly reasonable cost. A takeout box in frosted white runs less than $1.

Are souvenirs a requirement at a wedding? Let's face it, it is your wedding and you can do whatever you want. Because most wedding receptions do offer them you need to ask yourself the question, is the risk of offending your guests worth saving a little bit of extra money!

If it isn't than you should start shopping and getting together a list of potential favors you could give. For example you could give a travel scented candle and spend less than $2 for it. Another one would be Soap On A Rope.

This is an affordable favor that is both appreciated and useful.

You can probably think back to weddings you have been at recently where a small thoughtful gift was appreciated. We are not talking about thank you cards at this point either.

When you sit down and thank all the guests for the gifts they brought you then you will do the thank you cards at that point.

Handing out favors is common practice today. Because of the schedules people keep they have had to sacrifice something in the way of time and money to attend your wedding.

Depending where you hold your wedding attending it may not be that easy thing to do.

When you look at the price of gas today your guests could be spending more on gas than you are spending on gifts for them. Do you know you can give out personalized candy for between $2 dollars and $3 dollars each. When you consider that it can meet your affordable prices as a thank you for your guests.
