Giving gifts to acknowledge your bridesmaids' effort is a traditional way of saying "thank you" to your close girlfriends. The task of selecting what to give for these girls are usually made by the bride. One very popular gift idea for bridesmaids are jewelry. Jewelry pieces are often handcrafted from precious material like gemstone and crystals, freshwater pearls and sterling silver. Jewelry gifts you give to your bridesmaids are not just a mere fancy gift they can use, but also, these jewelry are made to complement their wedding dresses. Just like other wedding accessories, jewelry like rings, earrings, necklaces and bracelets should be chosen according to wedding colors and theme. Though it is very kind of you to give jewelry for your bridesmaids, it's not considered as a requirement for their attire.

Another well-accepted idea for bridesmaids are personalized gifts. Personalized items are ideal to surprise your girls. There are different types of personalized items for you to choose from. You may find personalized girl's stuff from simple to elegant. It is still customary to give gifts that are all the same, but you could elaborate them more by making it personalized. Consider embroidered bags or engraved jewelry. At first, these items may sound very common, but think broadly and settle with customized ones. Besides, personalized gifts are everyone's favorite, where they can proudly show what personality they have.

Consider a personalized cosmetic case, where your cosmopolitan girls can travel with style. A personalized cosmetic case is a spacious very functional container to hold women's cosmetic stuff. Usually, it has numerous interior zipped pockets and pouches that can keep your valuables safe and secure. Also, you may opt for a personalized jewelry roll – perfect travel accessory for your bridesmaids. You may find elegant jewelry rolls encrusted with Swarovski crystals, perfect to carry their beautiful baubles with glamor.

Also, when choosing special presents for your girls, you may base your purchasing decisions on your wedding theme. Your wedding theme is an important factor you should consider when buying wedding accessories and supplies. A beach-themed wedding for instance, this tropical summer wedding might call for unique gifts for your bridesmaids. Consider items that have beach-like appeal such as seashells, sand and stones, or even starfish motifs. Or travel related items like embroidered toiletry bags to make a perfect bridesmaids' companion during a destination wedding. Just be mindful of purchasing personalized items that are suited to your girls' personalities. Remember, each of your bridesmaids have their unique identity on their own, so you want to make sure of giving a present that they would likely appreciate, cherish and remember.

Personalized gifts for bridesmaids are great ideas that you may also apply when giving gifts for your maid of honor. Consider other unique options like engravable compact mirror, monogrammed tote bags and purses, bath robes and slippers, spa kit and the like. These are all available at your nearest specialty stores. For wider choices, try shopping online where a wide array of personalized selection awaits you!
